Subscriptions: One year, $3; one month, 25 cts.; single copy, 1 cent.

Members of the Publishers' Press.—The latest telegraphic news from all parts of the world are received by the Daily Times up to the hour of going to press.

Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

Published Every Weekday Afternoon.

Entered at the postoffice at Barre as second class matter.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1904.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

Gen. Apathy was himself routed, along with the Democrats.

C. J. Bell expresses himself as well pleased with the result. And well he might be.

Congressman "Kit" Haskins was nearly forgotten in the excitement, but he got there just the same.

Vermont Democrats will have to take what "crumbs of comfort" they can scrape up and be satisfied this year.

There's a wide field of usefulness opened up to Percival W. Clement, license commissioner in the city of Rutland.

St. Johnsbury has a check list of 1,807 names. Barre city, with a population one-third greater, has a check list of 1,800 names.

Maine Republicans will endeavor to follow the example next week, but their vote will be of less national significance than Vermont's.

The rent made in the Republican party of Vermont two years ago was successfully closed up this year and there was not a trace of the repairs.

And Barre's various candidates for political preferment, through the medium of the Prohibition and Socialist parties, will take their seats with the "also runs."

The mutterings against the "majority vote" necessary for election of representatives in the cities and towns of the state are growing stronger, particularly in the cities and large towns where second, third and fourth ballots, by wards, are taken with great difficulty.

Barre's army of school children have turned to their books with renewed energy. By the way, this army is increasing faster than the city is able to afford accommodation. All the rooms of the eight buildings are crowded to their capacity—in fact, they are overcrowded, which is an unsatisfactory condition of affairs. With the completion of the immense twelve-room building on Elm street the congestion will be temporarily relieved, but only for a short time. The city will no sooner have completed this structure than plans will have to be forming for another. The progressive city has to keep pace with a progressive population.

Says the Boston transcript on the Vermont state election of Tuesday: That the Republicans throughout the country should be greatly gratified by the result in Vermont is perfectly natural and perfectly legitimate. True, it is a rock-ribbed Republican state. No politician worthy of attention expects the state to change its political allegiance, but had its vote demonstrated a marked decline in Republican strength the fact would have had a certain significance and possibly some bearing on the campaign elsewhere. The Democrats would then have been gratified, and their gratification would have been perfectly legitimate, for they could have said that the Republican policy met with but a lukewarm reception in an old-line Republican community.

AUCTION SALE

Saturday, Sept. 10, at 6 P. M.

A. J. Jandro will sell at public auction, at the Pearl Street Auction Rooms, on Saturday, Sept. 10th, at 6 P. M., all his Household Goods, etc., consisting of a one-horse lumber wagon, one open wagon, single sleigh, three single harness, shovels, forks, horse blanket, robe, etc. Also cook stove, washing machines, two clothes wringers, wash boiler, mop wringer, wash tub and board. Also dishes, consisting of crockery, glass and tinware. Also hanging lamp, lounge, lot of chairs of all varieties, extension table, bedsteads, springs and mattresses, sheets, pillows and cases, quilts and one carpet of twenty yards.

Mr. Jandro is leaving the city and these goods must be sold. Sale begins at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, continuing Monday evening.

School Suits—just a bit better than one would expect at the price—perhaps a good bit better than can be found elsewhere, because our Department for Boys' Clothing is our strong point.

We take time to find the best and we take the money and buy it—the mothers appreciate good clothing for "good boys."

Reefers, Russian and Sailor Suits, Tourists and Automobile Overcoats, Norfolk, single and double-breasted, all the new styles, $1.50 to $6.50.

WE CLEAN, PRESS AND REPAIR CLOTHING.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

There are at the present time 10 dwelling houses in process of construction in Northfield. Some of these are fitted as tenement houses capable of accommodating two and three families.

The Textile Soap Co. of Bennington and North Adams, Mass., has just filed incorporation papers. It will conduct the business of making soaps and similar products in North Adams, Mass. Its capital is $20,000. Stock is divided into shares of $100 each.

Mrs. Mary L. Hull of East Fairfield has in her possession a linen stand spread and a towel spon and woven by her grandmother, Amanda Soule Northrop, and great grandmother, Betsey Elliott Soule. These pieces of linen are very old. Mrs. Hull has also several pieces of crockery and a small old fashioned table that have always been in the family and look only a little of being one hundred years old.

The voters of Worcester finally elected a representative yesterday morning. After balloting until 3 o'clock the meeting adjourned until 8 o'clock when another ballot was taken and Dean G. K. Hunt was elected. Tuesday night Hunt had 51 votes and Lackey and Hutchinson about the same number, 38 each. On the final ballot Hunt had 80, Lackey 31 and Hutchinson 29. There were no regular Republican nominees.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

Poor Simile.

They speak of Hench as a "mouse." That's nonsense, for it's clear. He can't tremble in his spouse. The slightest sense of fear.

—Philadelphia Press.

Desperate.

"Miss Oldham says she would never marry a man to reform him." "Oh, pshaw! She'd even marry a man to cook for him."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Useful Submarine.

The submarine's a useful boat As long as it is kept afloat, But once the thing by chance goes down The sailors must get out or drown.

—New York American.

It's When They Protest.

"Has she said that she will never marry again?" "No." "Then very likely she won't."—Chicago Post.

Easy Running.

Gladys (sighing)—Oh, dear, he hasn't proposed yet. Ethel—Well, what can you expect of a chap who never runs his auto over ten miles an hour?—Puck.

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

Mrs. Reggie Vanderbilt is never without a certain bracelet of Turkish manufacture.

Lady Duff-Gordon is the latest member of the English nobility to go into trade. She has become designer of costumes.

Miss Nora Stanton Blitch, a granddaughter of Elizabeth Cady Stanton, has distinguished herself by swimming across Lake Geneva where it is two and a half miles wide.

Mrs. Mary J. Tillinghast has served continuously as police matron for thirteen years in Providence, R. I. She is on duty from 6:30 a. m. to 6:30 p. m., when she is relieved by the night matron.

Madrid claims to have the oldest woman in the world, Maria Nieto, who has lived in three centuries, having been born in 1781. She was twice married and had nineteen children, all of whom she survives.

Miss Vere Dawney is the champion woman swimmer of Great Britain. For the last three years she has won the ladies' challenge shield at the Bath swimming matches for women. Lady Constance Mackenzie, formerly held the championship.

Mrs. Caroline Tomkins Mersereau of Morristown, N. J., who is now ninety-four years old, was one of the girls who strewed flowers before Lafayette in 1824. She still cherishes the badge which he unpinned from his coat and gave to her on that occasion.

The wife of the archbishop of Canterbury, who is accompanying her husband in this country, is said to be gifted with much literary ability and was of immeasurable assistance to Dr. Davidson in the compilation of her father's biography. Her father was Archbishop Taft, Dr. Davidson's predecessor.

THINGS THEATRICAL.

"The Factory Girl," a play dealing with the labor theme, will shortly be seen on the road.

"The Lily and the Prince," Carina Jordan's romantic drama dealing with Italian life of the sixteenth century, will not go on the road this season until after election.

"The Power Behind the Throne," with Katherine Willard as the star, proved such a success last season that Edward C. White has decided to again make it the dramatic vehicle of his star.

George M. Cohan has completed his cast for "Little Johnny Jones," which opens on Oct. 10. It includes George M. Cohan, Jerry J. Cohan, Miss Helen F. Cohan, Ethel Levey-Cohan and Trudy Shattuck.

Miss Nance O'Neil, who was so popular last winter in Boston, will reopen her season at the Tremont theater, in that city, presently, and on Oct. 10 she will present a new drama by Thomas Bailey Aldrich.

One of the features of "The Isle of Spice" is the presence on the stage of seventeen members of the United States marine corps, who take part in a march song called "Uncle Sam's Marines." They come from the Brooklyn navy yard.

A Has the Tight Wad.

[Twenty girls of Logansport, Ind., have sent out a protest against tight wads because they refuse to spend their money on the fair sex, and hint at a boycott on all such.]

There is no show for the tight wad beau. With the Indiana honey. If he wants to shine he must get in line And ladle out his money. For a love that's deep is never cheap. Says the Indiana beauty. And a first class plan for the Hoosier man Is to let his purse do duty.

He must not dream he can shun let cream And never spend a nickel. Else he will find that he is blind And in an awful pickle. For the girl he woos is not a goose. And she will not love a dandy Who hasn't the spunk to blow a plank For a box of tuffy candy.

You stingy beau, shell out your dough For Maud and May and Lizette. For buggy rides and more besides. And let your pelf get busy. It may surprise, but the girls are wise. And trouble now is brewing. Unless you cough you will find right off Not a single thing is doing.

Not Wanted.

"Can't I show you some special offerings in flatirons today, ma'am?" asked the courteous salesman. "No. We're living in a house now,"—Boston Herald.
